Re: Election Day Precinct Performance for the Congressional District 8 Special Election

The Elections Department has for some time endeavored to improve the quality of temporary election worker performance through increased training and feedback associated with errors precinct workers make during the election process. This additional training and feedback is showing positive results.

Attached is the latest "report card" for all precincts that conducted the Congressional District 8 (CD 8) Special Primary and General Elections. The first two sheets are graphic representations of the number of discrepancies per voting area. As you can see, there continues to be marked improvement in voting area election worker performance.

In the CD 8 Primary Election conducted on April 17, 2012, 27 voting areas had no discrepancies. For the June 12, 2012 General Election, 94 precincts had no discrepancies.

This information demonstrates significant improvement in election worker performance.
